

REQUEST FOR PROPOSALS (RFP)

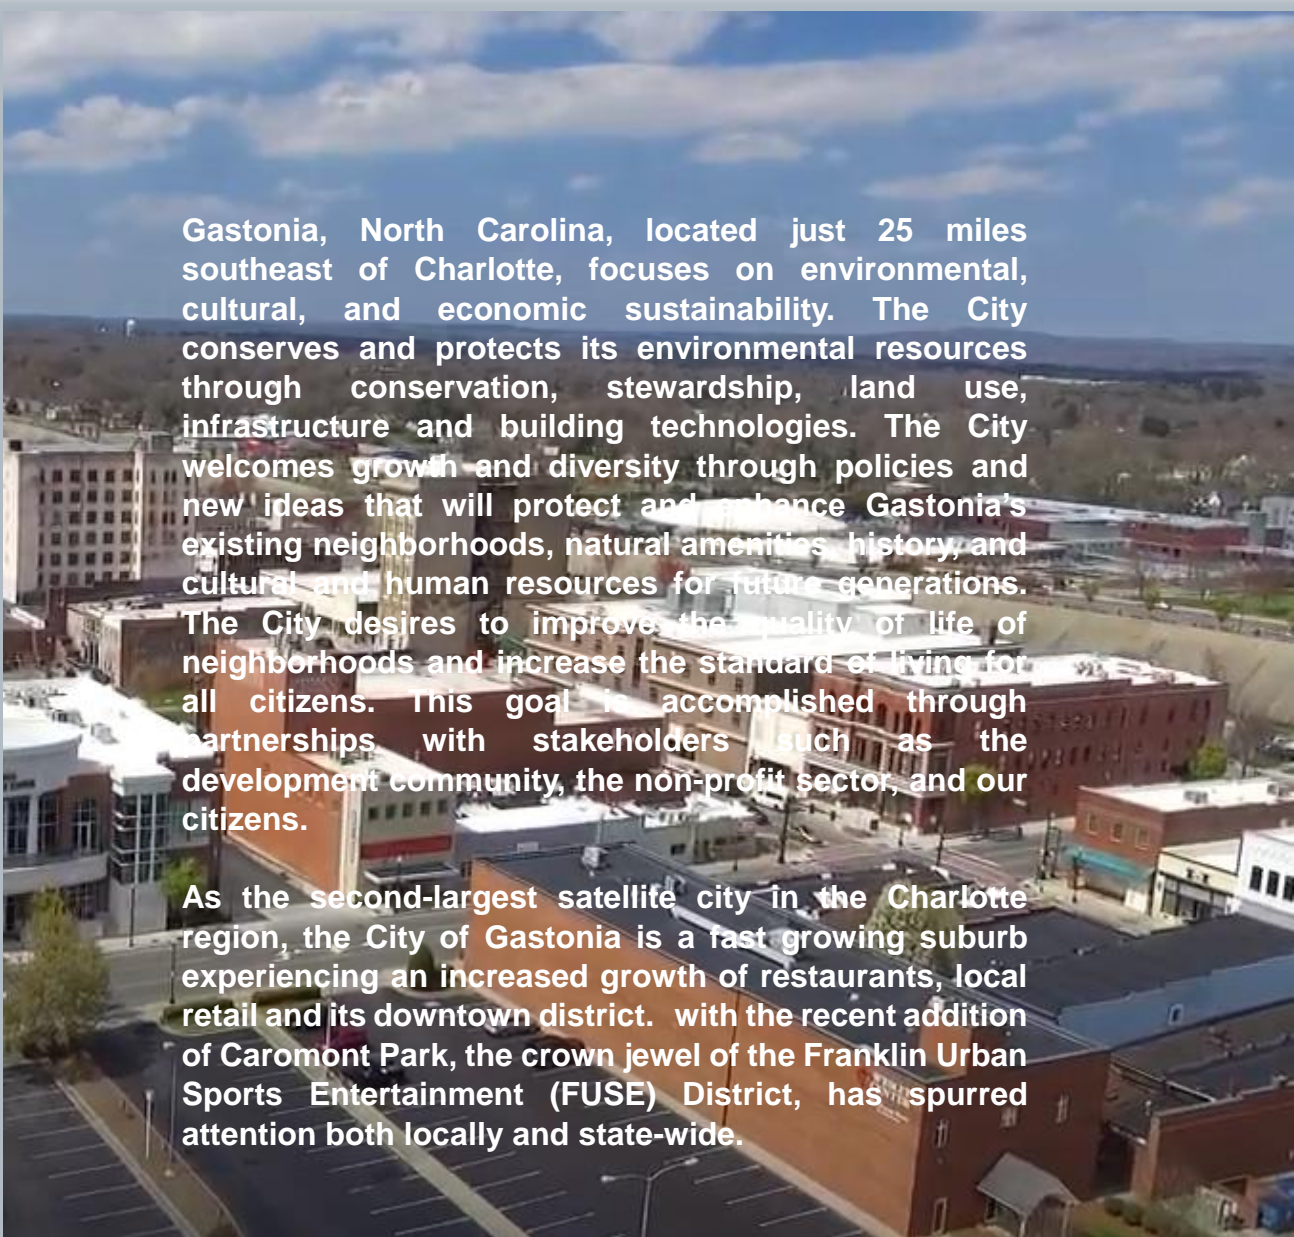

FOR THE PURCHASE AND DEVELOPMENT OF CITY-OWNED PROPERTY
SITES: HIGHLAND COMMUNITY

City of Gastonia

Gastonia, North Carolina, located just 25 miles southeast of Charlotte, focuses on environmental, cultural, and economic sustainability. The City conserves and protects its environmental resources through conservation, stewardship, land use, infrastructure and building technologies. The City welcomes growth and diversity through policies and new ideas that will protect and enhance Gastonia's existing neighborhoods, natural amenities, history, and cultural and human resources for future generations. The City desires to improve the quality of life of neighborhoods and increase the standard of living for all citizens. This goal is accomplished through partnerships with stakeholders such as the development community, the non-profit sector, and our citizens.

As the second-largest satellite city in the Charlotte region, the City of Gastonia is a fast growing suburb experiencing an increased growth of restaurants, local retail and its downtown district. With the recent addition of Caromont Park, the crown jewel of the Franklin Urban Sports Entertainment (FUSE) District, has spurred attention both locally and state-wide.

Highland Neighborhood

The Highland Community is located within walking distance of Gastonia's developing downtown. The neighborhood demographics and character are quickly changing. Staff initiated efforts in late 1990s and early 2000s to alleviate blighted conditions by means of acquisition, demolition, clearance and new construction. Due to the economic downturn in 2008, planning and development were halted. Over the past few years, activities resumed and resulted in some infill construction of new, higher priced homes.

The Highland community is uniquely positioned to deliver innovative housing options in a tight housing market in which supply is not meeting the demand. The City intends to use appropriate means of property transfer for the purpose of affordable housing. Housing and Community Engagement staff will coordinate with the City's Legal Department in determining the appropriate disposition method under state statutes.

Site Development Opportunity

The City of Gastonia seeks innovative affordable housing development concepts for multiple scattered site City-owned properties located on the northern edge of downtown Gastonia. Developers should develop the highest and best use for the property and consider various housing types to include multi-family housing such as duplexes, triplexes and the like. The Housing and Community Engagement Department is issuing this Request for Proposals (RFP) to gauge the type of demand for the various sites. For-profit and non-profit developers are encouraged to submit a Request for Proposals. In addition, the City would like to encourage interested parties to assess the site and propose its highest and best use. It is important to note that interested parties should consider all relevant City sponsored plans and the City's mission to improve the quality of life for Gastonia's low- and moderate-income residents.

Zoning

The available sites are in an older part of the City; therefore, due diligence is recommended as it relates to zoning, utilities, stormwater, and historic preservation. The surrounding land uses are predominately residential however, there is some diversity which may provide interested parties a range of options for the site(s).

Subject Properties

All sites are within 1 mile and easily accessible to Interstate-85. Located to the west of North Chester Street (US Highway 321) is Erwin Community Park. The park has a recreational facility, pool, splash pad, basketball courts, walking track and children's playground equipment within the park. Other uses within a one-block radius of the site include a magnet school, multi-family development, older single-family homes and new construction single-family homes. It is important to note all sites are within walking distance of the Gastonia Transit Route.

Condition of the Site

All lots are cleared and have access to paved public streets as well as access to city water and sewer. Applicants should also be familiar with all applicable stormwater regulations. Applicants are expected to have examined the subject property to understand existing site conditions. Interested parties should note the following in their submissions: grading, slope stabilization (if any), curb and gutter, sidewalks, parking, utilities, and stormwater.

City Goals

Income Targeting and Income-Mix

Interested parties should provide scenarios of approaches they have taken or will take related to the income mix of the proposed project. The income mix should describe at minimum providing 51% of the units for affordable housing (i.e. 80% AMI and below). In addition, the description should be specific about the actual income targeted within the affordable units.

Long-Term Affordability

Long-term affordability is a high priority for City Council and City staff. A typical tax-credit project provides 20-30 years of affordability. The expectation is not necessarily this long; however, interested parties should use this time frame as a guide.

Density and Land Use

The zoning associated with each site ultimately determines how dense the development will be. Interested parties should provide scenarios utilizing maximum density on the site. In addition, there should be consideration given related to parking requirements, open space, stormwater, and amenities.

Neighborhood Character

The Highland sites are unique because the surrounding buildings are diverse in character. Interested parties should use historical context as well as the current nature of construction to propose residential units that blend in with the Highland neighborhood. Additionally, there is an expectation that the materials used in the development will stand the test of time.

Process for Developing the Site

The City will utilize the following process to select a developer for the Highland Community projects.
